Funding was used towards travel, catering and printing for the [MY] Story project launch that was attended by Latrobe City's mayor, our auspice GMS, supporters Kindred Spirits and Soroptomists International (Gippsland) as well as educators and service providers to multicultural families. Funds were used as noted above.

The services of Dan and Eloisa from Nanoo Nanoo Arts were contracted.

What measures did you use to assess the impact?

Observation from school teachers and principals.
Pre and post surveys of student participants showed improved understanding and empathy around multiculturalism; self-identity; and increased confidence in story-telling.
Students' verbal recounts of what the project meant to them.
Number of hits on the youtube video since its upload on the day of the launch.

Describe three ways that your organisation has changed in the last 12 months since the event.

Enhanced working relationship with CMY and strong referral base for each other's organisations.

Enhancements to training:

No

Over the last 12 months, did you receive any goods in-kind and/or pro-bono services from anyone you met through TFN?

Yes, pro bono services to assistance with measuring outcomes.

How important was TFN funding in helping you achieve your objectives this year?

We wouldn't have been able to achieve our objectives without TFN funding.

Has the TFN pitch coaching and mentoring helped you successfully secure funding from other sources you did not meet through TFN?

No

What were some of the other benefits of participating in TFN?

Pitch coaching and the TFN experience resulted in a greater ability to articulate our proposals and increased self-confidence when required to speak in front of an audience for UMSLV related work as well as other audiences such as business network groups; access to a broader supporter base and network.

The relationships that we have been able to build and strengthen through the TFN experience has been invaluable.

The TFN experience has been very positive and everyone that we have dealt with through the process have been very helpful.
